Question:	Please add any additional comments you may have about this course:
Response Rate:	33.33% (2 of 6)

1	I wish Dr. Wright taught more medical classes. amazing teacher!
2	Having ADHD and anxiety is not an easy combo for college. I have disability availability for test taking. However, her approach and set up I didn't need it. Even being last to finish my test I still had time. She didn't just encourage us for school but she encouraged us in life. She gave empowering speech of how we can succeed and we are here learning. We don't walk out to drivers test knowing everything we have to learn and push ourselves. She made me keep driving in a sense. I can't thank her enough. If I fail or anyone fails it's not because she didn't do her part. It's because they didn't give back the same desire to achieve as she gave to wanting us to achieve. If you are lazy then dropping was an option if you wanted this then staying was the achievement. I had so much going on in my life. She still made sure I understood each day and even study session for class. No teacher I have been with took time to study with the class as she did. If you want to win then you stayed to practice.
