

ARTS 1303-130IN Art History/Online Spring 2024

Instructor Information: Zoie Buske, zbuske@com.edu

Learning Outcomes:

When you leave this course you will have:

- Written a successful art history paper.
- Improved your visual literacy, which is your ability to read works of art, or visual culture and discern: 1. What the artwork is trying to communicate to you (or the viewer it was originally intended for) and 2. What it says about the moment in history, and the society it was created in.
- Improved your research skill set.

Student hours and location: Lectures are pre-recorded, and will be released twice a week every Tuesday/Thursday on D2L. Attendance will not be required, but the lectures must be watched. After watching the lecture, the students must submit a question that they had about the lecture to D2L – questions for both of the lectures are due Sunday at Midnight. Individual meetings with the instructor are held via appointment.

Required Textbook/Materials: For this class we will be using the textbook "Reframing Art History." It is an open source art history textbook that you can access from any device. You will not need to purchase a textbook for this class.

- Note: The textbook covers Art History, from Prehistory to the present, so we will not cover every chapter in this course. This class will cover the first four sections of the textbook.

Course Description: ARTS 1303. ART HISTORY I:

(LECTURE 3, LAB 0). CREDIT 3. ACGM.

(Prehistoric to the 14th century) A chronological analysis of the historical and cultural contexts of the visual arts from prehistoric times to the 14th century. Prerequisite: TSIA2 ELAR <945 with Diagnostic 5-6 and Essay 0-4, <945 with Diagnostic 4 and Essay 0-8, or >945 with Essay 0-4, or equivalent developmental course with a grade of "C" or better.

Course requirements: This course surveys global history of art from prehistory to roughly the 14th Century. While by no means exhaustive, we will cover key moments in this global history. The course will be broken up into three units, UNIT 1. The Earliest art: The Prehistoric Period to 300 C.E, UNIT 2: Unit 2: Art and Architecture 200 - 900 CE; and finally, UNIT 3. Unit 3: Art and Architecture 900 - 1400

For this class you will be required to watch the lectures posted to D2L. Lectures will be released on Tuesdays/Thursdays. You must submit a question about each lecture to D2L by Sunday at 11:59pm.

While the textbook is available to all of you as a supplementary resource, to research and review – reading it is not required. However, throughout the class I have assigned a few supplementary readings that are required. While they may be a little challenging at first, they are designed to demonstrate to you all what scholarly journal articles look like, and sound like. They are all interesting and connected to the theme of the week! You will likely have questions about them afterwards. Therefore, for each reading, you will submit a question to D2L. It must be substantive, and contend with the main idea of the video or reading.

Determination of Course Grade:

Question Submission for Lectures, and Reading Assignments - 35%
Paper 1 - 10%
Midterm - 15%
Paper 2 - 20%
Final - 20%

Late Work, Make-Up, and Extra-Credit Policy: Late work will be accepted. However, -10 points will be deducted for every day the assignment is late. Exceptions are made for extenuating circumstances. Extra credit, and make up work will be discussed on a case by case basis.

Attendance Policy: Attendance will not be mandatory for this course, however, you must watch the lectures that are posted.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means. (Faculty may add additional statement requiring monitoring and communication expectations via D2L or other LMS)

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook https://www.com.edu/student-services/docs/Student Handbook 2023-2024 v2.pdf. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.
