COURSE INFORMATION

Course Description: A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the Civil War/reconstruction era to the present. United States History II examines industrialization, immigration, World Wars, the Great Depression, Cold War, and post-Cold War eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History II include American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, urbanization and suburbanization, the expansion of the federal government, and the study of U.S. foreign policy. Any topic for this class must be after 1877.

DETERMINATION OF GRADE

Course Work Requirements: This is a course that requires the student to attend lectures. Each lecture contains material that may not be available in the textbook, material that the student is responsible for and will be tested upon; therefore, it is essential that students make a concerted effort to attend class. If a student is absent from class, they are responsible for acquiring the lecture notes from a classmate. Rigorous note taking and studying of lecture notes is expected if the student is to succeed in the class. In addition to attending lectures, students are expected to read the textbook assignment prior to attending the lecture on that subject.

Exams: There will be four exams during the semester with a value of 100 points each. Exams will be in class with an essay question. Exam material will be drawn from both lectures and assigned readings. Students should pay particular attention to terms in the study guides, which will be distributed prior to each exam. Each exam will consist of multiple-choice questions, short answers, map questions as well as a take home essay question. There will be NO makeup tests given. If you miss a test your lowest test score for the semester will count twice. If you miss more than one test the other will be a 0. Exams address the following Core Objective: Critical Thinking.

Assessment Quizzes: In addition to the four exams, there will be several pop quizzes during the semester. Quizzes will be given in class for the most part, there may be some that are posted on D2L. The lowest two quiz scores will be dropped. Quizzes will be given in order to identify at-risk students. Once at-risk students are identified, a plan will be developed in conjunction with the student with the goal of improving their performance in the class. Quizzes will count for a total of 100 points. Quizzes cannot be made up. Quizzes address the following Core Objective: Critical Thinking.

Discussion Posts: You are responsible for reading primary documents and posting comments on the discussion boards on D2L. These discussions will address the readings, and your responses should incorporate reading and class discussion. This will account for 50 points, 5%, of your total grade.

Primary documents will be posted on D2L, and these are the documents that you need for the discussion posts. You will read the documents for that discussion and post a comment (needs to be about a paragraph) on the documents, what did the document say, what was its purpose and how did it fit into our class discussions. You will also need to comment on at least one other person's post.

Research Paper Assignment: Each student will be responsible for a 5-page typed double-spaced, 12-point Times New Roman font, cited paper over a historical topic that we cover. The topic must be after 1877. You must have in-text citations, and a works cited list. You may use MLA, APA, or Turabian citations. You must use at least one primary document, one scholarly article, one book, and one scholarly internet site. You may pick your own topic, but it must be approved by the instructor. You must turn in a rough draft of the paper and receive feedback before you will be allowed to turn in the final paper. See syllabus for due date. No late papers will be accepted. Make sure you turn in your paper on time! The research paper will count for 10% of your grade. See class outline for when specific parts of the paper are due. The Paper Assignment will also address the following Core Objectives: Critical Thinking Skills, Communication Skills (CS1)

The Research Paper Assignment will be graded using the following formula:

Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources	25 points
Create an argument through the use of historical evidence	25 points
Effective use of Critical Thinking Skills	25 points
Effective use of Communication Skills (written)	25 points
Total Points	100 points

No late papers will be accepted, NO EXCEPTIONS. The research paper assignment is worth 100 points. This is a high value assignment. Failure to turn this assignment will adversely affect your final course grade. See Calendar for due date.

Oral Presentation Assignment: This course has an oral communication assignment. Each student will present a 5-minute video presentation of their research topic to the class. Each student will be graded on content, research, and presentation. The oral presentation will count for 10% of your grade. The Oral Presentation will address the following Core Objectives: Communication Skills (CS2) and Communication Skills (CS3).

You must also create a “movie” poster for your topic to compliment your presentation. This must use visual imagery and be limited to 5 words. See Calendar for due date.

The presentation is worth 100 points and will be graded according to the following formula:

Verbal Communication	25 points
Nonverbal Communication	25 points
Content	25 points
Poster (visual Communication)	25 points
Total Points	100 points

Responsibility Paper: Students will pick a person that fits into the time-period of HIST 1302 - U.S. History from 1877. Students look for a person that fits into the major area that you are studying.

- Arts & Humanities
- Business and Industry
- Health, Human and Consumer Science and Public Safety
- STEM

There are many interesting people/movements that fit into these major areas. Find a person or movement that interests you.

Students will write a two-page typed paper on the Social and Personal Responsibility of the person/or persons involved in the movement.

The student must include a section in their paper discussing the social and personal responsibility of the individuals involved. Students will use primary and secondary sources for their paper.

Example: Harry Truman’s decision to drop the atomic bomb, what are the consequences of this action? What personal responsibility and social responsibility does he have and how does it influence those around him?

The Paper Assignment will be graded using the following formula:

Effective use of Critical Thinking Skills	25 points
Effective use of Communication Skills (written)	25 points
Analysis of the Social Responsibility Component of the Topic	25 points
Analysis of the Personal Responsibility Component of the Topic	25 points
Total Points	100 points

Movie Critique: Movies can be accessed through the Com Library site, go to Swank Films and choose a film appropriate for our class. You may also use any streaming media source you have access to. The movie must be based on a historical event that happens after 1877 in the US. After watching the movie, you will write a 2-page typed paper about the movie. You will address the question of how this movie fit into the class discussions we were having. Is this an accurate representation of what we have been studying? See Calendar for due date.

Extra Credit: Films on U.S. History are available in the library. To earn extra credit, you will select a film, watch it, and write a one-to-two-page typed response to the film. You will receive up to five extra credit points for each summary turned in. Note: Quality responses will earn you five extra points; summaries that are not well done will earn less credit, so don’t turn in sloppy work and expect to earn extra credit. I do not want just a summary but what you thought about the film in the context of what we have discussed in class. You can earn a total of 30 points of extra credit.

Other extra credit may be given throughout the semester. These may be extra credit questions on a test or other out of class assignments.

Emergency Closure Assignment: In case of an emergency closure of the school it may be necessary for assignments to be posted on D2L. Also, if class is unable to meet for any reason, assignments may be posted on D2L. Always check announcements on D2L for more information if this becomes necessary.

Total points for the semester will be 1000 points.

Course grades will be calculated as follows:

Assessment Quizzes	100 points
Responsibility Paper	100 points
Research Paper Rough draft	25 points
Final Research Paper	75 points
