

ENGL-1301-002I4-S12025
Composition I
Summer 2025, June 2, 2025 – July 3, 2025

Instructor Information: William Faour, wfaour@com.edu

Office Hours: I am available on Mondays and Wednesdays virtually, 10-11 am. Please request an appointment ahead of time via email. I will also be available during other times at my discretion via appointment. Feel free to reach out to me with an email so we can figure out a good time.

Required Textbook/Materials: We will primarily use The RoughWriter's Guide (<https://pressbooks.pub/roughwritersguide/>). Any other necessary readings will be available via D2L. For materials, you need access to the internet, the ability to type and send Word documents (software you can use includes Microsoft Word or Google Docs), and note-taking instruments for class (pen and paper preferred, but computers are allowed).

Course Description:

Intensive study of and practice in writing processes, from invention and researching to drafting, revising, and editing, both individually and collaboratively. Emphasis on effective rhetorical choices, including audience, purpose, arrangement, and style. Focus on writing the academic essay as a vehicle for learning, communicating and critical analysis.

Prerequisites: TSIA2 945-990 ELAR/CRC test AND 5 or higher on Essay OR 910-944 on CRC with 5-6 on Diagnostic Test + 5 or higher on Essay, or IRW 0320 with a grade of "C" or better.

Course requirements:

As this is a five-week course covering the same material as a typical sixteen-week course, we will move at a fast pace with strict deadlines. Although it is asynchronous, there will still be strict due dates to follow, so make sure to log into D2L and check your email regularly.

This course will primarily focus on academic writing, but there are plenty of other kinds of writing too, and I'll make sure we cover as much as we can.

There will be two lectures a week, uploaded on Mondays and Wednesdays, and most will correspond to a discussion board post and either a quiz or an assignment. Discussion board posts will be due on Wednesdays and Sundays at 11:59 pm, unless otherwise noted in the calendar below. Quizzes and assignments will be due on Wednesdays and Sundays at 11:59 pm, respectively. The midterm will be due on June 22nd at 11:59 pm, but the final will be different. The final will be due on the last day of class, July 3rd, at 11:59 pm.

Participation

Although this is an online course, participation will still remain a major component. Discussion board posts will accompany each lecture. Students are expected to respond to the post I make, make one post of their own, and respond to at least one more, twice a week. Discussion board posts will be graded based on quality of the response, rather than quantity of words. This means your posts must be substantial and in-depth; you are unlikely to find that with only two sentences, for example, but each sentence should always have a purpose, even if you write two paragraphs. This is an online class, so discussion board posts will be used for attendance. Failing to use the discussion board will result in an absence.

Quizzes

There will be weekly quizzes, with the exception of the weeks of the final. Each quiz will be based on information from the lectures to ensure understanding of the material and should be taken only after the respective lecture(s). The quizzes will be multiple choice or free response, depending on the material.

Assignments

As befitting a writing class, there will be four major writing assignments, with the exception of the week of the final. The four assignments are a five-paragraph essay outline, an annotated bibliography, a research paper proposal, and a research paper proposal revision. These assignments are meant to make you more comfortable with writing as we move toward the final essay (more on that below).

Midterm

The midterm will be a multiple-choice test based on everything we've gone over so far, across lectures and any supplemental readings.

Final

The final will be a two-parter. The first part will be a final essay. Using everything you've learned, you'll write a full academic essay, which will make up half of your grade on the final. The other half will come from the multiple-choice exam, which will be identical in structure to the midterm.

Determination of Course Grade/Detailed Grading Formula:

Assignment	Percent of Course Grade
Discussion Board	20%
Assignments	15%
Quizzes	15%

Midterm	20%

Late Work, Make-Up, and Extra-Credit Policy:

As this is a fast-paced class, late work is unacceptable. For each day an assignment is overdue, twenty points will be deducted from its grade. Missed quizzes, exams, and discussion board posts will be automatic zeroes.

I understand extenuating circumstances may always occur, and there are occasionally situations beyond our control in life. If such an extreme circumstance happens, please let me know in advance so that we may come up with a make-up plan at my discretion. If you do not follow these instructions, you will receive a zero, and there will be no make-up options.

Attendance Policy: While this is an asynchronous, online course, attendance is still mandatory. Discussion board posts will be considered attendance, so failing to post in time will equate to an absence. The post-midterm conference will also be mandatory, and missing it will be considered an absence as well.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means. (Faculty may add additional statement requiring monitoring and communication expectations via D2L or other LMS)

Scholastic dishonesty and plagiarism are defined in the student handbook. Plagiarism (failure to acknowledge or cite sources of ideas and/or works, representing another's work as your own, etc.) will not be tolerated in this class. Similarly, if you use any of your peers' research, secondary sources, and/or ideas to write your own work, it will not be tolerated and will be viewed as academically dishonest. These types of choices can result in a failing grade for the assignment, the course, and in the most extreme cases, it will be reported to COM. If you do not understand what constitutes plagiarism, or academic dishonesty, please contact me. If you are unsure whether something included in one of your writing assignments may be considered plagiarism, or academically dishonest please contact me during my office hours or at least two days before the assignment is due. Please note that failure to credit a source in a discussion post is also plagiarism. If you use a source, credit the author no matter what type of assignment it is.

Plagiarism will result in a zero on the assignment in question with no exceptions.

In this course, you may not use AI for any assignment in any way, shape, or form. Use of AI will be treated as plagiarism.

HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT: PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. To plagiarize is to steal the words or ideas of another and pass them off as one's own. Two forms of plagiarism are common. In the first form, the writer incorporates published or otherwise recorded material without properly acknowledging its sources. In the second form, the writer submits work actually done by someone else. (The student who allows his/her work to be used by others is also guilty.) Any student who plagiarizes will receive a grade of "0" on his/her plagiarized work and may, as a result, receive a failing grade in the course. Ignorance will not be an acceptable defense: all students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the rules of documentation.

Violation of the Plagiarism Policy may result in a referral to the College of the Mainland Judicial Coordinator or further disciplinary actions as stated in the current Student Handbook.

"Source" may refer to published works (including material available from electronic/computer networks or databases), electronically broadcast programs, films, recordings, interviews, speeches, or lectures.

1. You must document when you quote directly from another source.
2. You must document when you paraphrase words from another source.
3. You must document when you summarize ideas from another source.
4. You must document when you use facts (statistics in a chart or graph, for example) or visual material from another source.

Student Concerns: If you have any questions or concerns about any aspect of this course, please contact me using the contact information previously provided. If, after discussing your concern with me, you continue to have questions, please contact the Humanities Department Chair Brian Anderson at 409-933-8186 or banderson@com.edu.

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook https://www.com.edu/student-services/docs/Student\_Handbook\_2024-2025\_v2.pdf. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.

Academic Success & Support Services: College of the Mainland is committed to providing students the necessary support and tools for success in their college careers. Support is offered through our Tutoring Services, Library, Counseling, and through Student Services. Please discuss any concerns with your faculty or an advisor.

ADA Statement: Any student with a documented disability needing academic accommodations is requested to contact:

Kimberly Lachney, Student Accessibility Services Coordinator

Phone: 409-933-8919

Email: AccessibilityServices@com.edu

Location: COM Doyle Family Administration Building, Student Success Center

Textbook Purchasing Statement: A student attending College of the Mainland is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from the college-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.

Withdrawal Policy: Students may withdraw from this course for any reason prior to the last eligible day for a "W" grade. Before withdrawing students should speak with the instructor and consult an advisor. Students are permitted to withdraw only six times during their college career by state law. The last date to withdraw from the 1st 5-week session is June 30. The last date to withdraw from the 10-week session is July 29. The last date to withdraw for the 2nd 5-week session is August 1.

FN Grading: The FN grade is issued in cases of failure due to a lack of attendance, as determined by the instructor. The FN grade may be issued for cases in which the student ceases or fails to attend class, submit assignments, or participate in required capacities, and for which the student has failed to withdraw. The issuing of the FN grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an FN grade.

Early Alert Program: The Student Success Center at College of the Mainland has implemented an Early Alert Program because student success and retention are very important to us. I have been asked to refer students to the program throughout the semester if they are having difficulty completing assignments or have poor attendance. If you are referred to the Early Alert Program you will be contacted by someone in the Student Success Center who will schedule a meeting with you to see what assistance they can offer in order for you to meet your academic goals.

Resources to Help with Stress:

If you are experiencing stress or anxiety about your daily living needs including food, housing or just feel you could benefit from free resources to help you through a difficult time, please click here <https://www.com.edu/community-resource-center/>. College of the Mainland has partnered with free community resources to help you stay on track with your schoolwork, by addressing life issues that get in the way of doing your best in school. All services are private and confidential. You may also contact the Dean of Students office at deanofstudents@com.edu or communityresources@com.edu.

Nondiscrimination Statement:

The College District prohibits discrimination, including harassment, against any individual on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, age, veteran status, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender (including gender identity and gender expression), or any other basis prohibited by law. Retaliation against anyone involved in the complaint process is a violation of College District policy.
