Office hours and location:

N211, Monday-Wednesday, 2:45-3:30

Required Textbook/Materials:

Students will need access to the internet and a laptop or computer.
They will also need paper and a pen for some in-class assignments.

Course Description: Intensive study of and practice in writing processes, from invention and researching to drafting, revising and editing, both individually and collaboratively. Emphasis on effective rhetorical choices, including audience, purpose, arrangement and style. Focus on writing the academic essay as a vehicle for learning, communicating and critical analysis.

Course requirements:

Research Tutorial:

Students must complete a research tutorial provided by the COM Library. This will help students develop the skills of choosing and documenting sources for research writing.

Writing Assignments:

Students will complete several writing assignments throughout the semester, which will be graded for specific aspects of organization, style, correct usage, adherence to a specific style format (usually MLA), proper documentation of sources, and overall clarity and effectiveness. All essays must be typed and will be turned in electronically.

Journals:

Students are required to write two journal entries per week of at least 200 words each. Topics may range from personal reflection to planning for essays to philosophical or political opinions, to drafts of your screenplay, etc. These must be completed on separate days, and both must have been completed by Friday of each week, although journals for the next week may be completed over the weekend.

Professionalism:

As this is a college course, students are expected to approach class time and the coursework with maturity and professionalism. This includes taking an active part in class discussions and activities, coming to class prepared, attending regularly and punctually, and responding to other students and the instructor respectfully and professionally.

Classwork:

I expect all students to participate in class. The classwork grade will account for consistent completion of style and grammar practice exercises, assigned responses to readings, drafts and revisions, online discussions and assignments, peer critiques, and overall contribution to the workings of the class.

Determination of Course Grade/Detailed Grading Formula:

Essays 40% Journals 20% Classwork 20%
Professionalism 15% Research Tutorial 5%
Grading Scale: A=90-100, B=80-89, C=70-79, D=60-69.
F=0-59.

*Plagiarized student work will not be accepted for a grade.

Late Work, Make-Up, and Extra-Credit Policy: Late work may be accepted for classwork and essays within limits and according to instructor discretion. Students will lose points on assignments accepted late. Essays will not be accepted more than one day late. Late journals will not be credited. I will not continue to accept late assignments if it becomes a habit.

Attendance Policy: Attendance and punctuality are both requirements of the course. Frequent absences and tardies will be penalized by a reduction in the professionalism score. Consistently absent or tardy students (6 or more absences and 7 or more tardies) will be dropped from the course, or they will be given a failing grade if W day has passed.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email or via Brightspace. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means.

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook. <https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf>. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.

Withdrawal Policy: Students may withdraw from this course for any reason prior to the last eligible day for a “W” grade. Before withdrawing students should speak with the instructor and consult an advisor. Students are permitted to withdraw only six times during their college career by state law. The last date to withdraw from the 16-week session is November 18.

F_N Grading: The F_N grade is issued in cases of failure due to a lack of attendance, as determined by the instructor. The F_N grade may be issued for cases in which the student ceases or fails to attend class, submit assignments, or participate in required capacities, and for which the student has failed to withdraw. The issuing of the F_N grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an F_N grade.

Early Alert Program: The Student Success Center at College of the Mainland has implemented an Early Alert Program because student success and retention are very important to us. I have been asked to refer students to the program throughout the semester if they are having difficulty completing assignments or have poor attendance. If you are referred to the Early Alert Program you will be contacted by someone in the Student Success Center who will schedule a meeting with you to see what assistance they can offer in order for you to meet your academic goals.
