Required Textbook/Materials:

All of our reading materials will be provided for free, and will be accessed through Blackboard.

Course Description:

This course integrates more advanced preparation than IRW 0300 regarding academic reading skills and skills in writing a variety of academic assignments. Topics include critical reading and writing skills. Students will be expected to write compositions similar to those assigned in ENGL 1301.

Reading and writing are separate but linked skills. In this course, we'll work on both skills, exploring that link between them – reading to deepen our understanding, and writing to give shape to our thoughts. Reading serves as an example of writing, as well as a source of ideas to write about. Writing helps us understand our own ideas and clarify them for an audience, as well as see what it is we may need to read more about. In working on these skills, this course will also serve as support for our assignments in 1301.

Course requirements:

Just like in 1301, there will be a lot of writing in this course. We will be writing a good deal both in class as well as for homework. There will also be in-class reading, discussions, and workshopping our own work.

Classroom discussion should be polite, professional, and on topic. Feedback should be constructive and mindful of the person who will read it.

Come to class prepared with paper and a pencil/pen.

Grading: Participation:	20%
In-Class Writing:	20%
Blog Responses:	20%
Teamwork Reflection:	15%
Personal Reflection:	15%
MLA Quiz:	10%

Participation, in-class writing, and blog responses will be graded on thoughtfulness and attention to topic. The Teamwork and Personal Reflections will be graded using rubrics I have written. The MLA quiz is multiple choice.

Late Work, Make-Up, and Extra-Credit Policy:

Work should be submitted by the due date and in the form listed on assignment sheets. Work submitted after the due date will decrease five points for every day that it is late. No late work will be accepted after the last day on the course calendar.

Extra credit may be earned once during the semester by attending (in person or online) an event of educational or professional value at the college, and submitting a half-page report on your experience to the Extra Credit blog on Blackboard.

Attendance Policy:

You are expected to be on time and in attendance. Four or more absences may result in a failing grade.

Excessive tardiness will impact your participation grade.

Excessive use of electronics for purposes other than classwork may result in an 'absence' for that day.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means.

Academic Dishonesty:

Scholastic dishonesty and plagiarism are defined in the student handbook. Plagiarism (failure to acknowledge or cite sources of ideas and/or works, representing another's work as your own, etc.) will not be tolerated in this class. It can result in a failing grade for the assignment, the course, and in the most extreme cases, it will be reported to COM. If you are unsure whether something may be considered plagiarism, please contact me.

HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT: PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. To plagiarize is to steal the words or ideas of another and pass them off as one's own. Two forms of plagiarism are common. In the first form, the writer incorporates published or otherwise recorded material without properly acknowledging its sources. In the second form, the writer submits work actually done by someone else. (The student who allows his/her work to be used by others is also guilty.) Any student who plagiarizes will receive a grade of "0" on his/her plagiarized work and may, as a result, receive a failing grade in the course. Ignorance will not be an acceptable defense: all students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the rules of documentation.

Violation of the Plagiarism Policy may result in a referral to the College of the Mainland

Judicial Coordinator or further disciplinary actions as stated in the current Student Handbook.

"Source" may refer to published works (including material available from electronic/computer networks or databases), electronically broadcast programs, films, recordings, interviews, speeches, or lectures.

- 1. You must document when you quote directly from another source.
- 2. You must document when you paraphrase words from another source.
- 3. You must document when you summarize ideas from another source.

4. You must document when you use facts (statistics in a chart or graph, for example) or visual material from another source

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook.<https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal. https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf.

The issuing of the  $F_N$  grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an  $F_N$  grade.

Early Alert Program: The Student Success Center at College of the Mainland has implemented an Early Alert Program because student success and retention are very important to us. I have been asked to refer students to the program throughout the semester if they are having difficulty completing assignments or have poor attendance.
