Introduction to the Humanities I

HUMA-1301-001IN

Spring 2023/ Online only

Instructor Information: M. Espinosa

D2L (Brightspace) email is the preferred form of communication. I will respond to emails Monday through Friday early mornings.

Since we are transferring to a new Learning Management System (LMS), please, log-in early in the coming weeks to stay ahead on this new platform. Learning modules open on Fridays and remain open for ten days except for the last week of classes.

Please read the Weekly Agendas and Announcements at least twice a week as we transition; important information may be provided.

If you are having trouble with this platform , please, contact the DE Support Office <https://de-support.com.edu/requests>

Please use your College of the Mainland email address. Personal email addresses are automatically sent to spam and discarded.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your D2L (Brightspace) email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means. All emails should be sent to the D2L (Brightspace) email address.

Use this email address if D2L (Brightspace) is down or after the semester is over mepinosa5@com.edu

Please use your College of the Mainland email address. Personal email addresses are automatically sent to spam and discarded.

Required Textbook: The Humanities: Culture, Continuity and Change.

Volume One, Fourth Edition., Editor Henry Sayre. Upper Saddle River:

Pearson Prentice Hall, 2019. You are responsible for the material in the 4th edition. Please contact the bookstore to rent your textbook. You will need it the second week of class.

YOU CAN RENT YOUR COPY

You may want to call first to see if the Humanities 1301 textbook is in. Please call 409.933.8239.

If you receive an access code to open your e-reader contact me early in the first week of class via D2L (Brightspace) email.

Textbook Purchasing Statement: A student attending College of the Mainland is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from the college-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.

Course Description: This stand-alone course is an interdisciplinary survey of cultures focusing on the philosophical and aesthetic factors in human values with an emphasis on the historical development of the individual and society and the need to create.

Course requirements (including description of any special projects or assignments):

Exams, discussions, quizzes, field trip/research PowerPoint with oral presentation. All activities are submitted through D2L (Brightspace only). No emailed assignments or late work is accepted.

You have ample opportunity to complete assignments and exams. Late work is NOT accepted.

Professionalism. You are expected to act professional in this class since you are training for a job in the future.

1. The ability to look for answer without burdening others.
2. Honesty and integrity.
3. Beware of calling others work into question when not asked to.
4. Reliable, and do what is expected of them.
5. Accountability
7. Self-regulation
8. Netiquette: Respectful of your instructor and classmates.

Netiquette is online etiquette. I expect all participants in this course to communicate in a professional and respectful manner.

Students must be courteous, respectful and follow rules at all times. There will be no terms of abuse, derogatory terms including name slurs, words or grammatical forms that connote negativity and express contempt or distaste. Students who do not comply are not allowed to complete and receive grades on assignments.

Regarding communication with your classmates:

- Value diversity. Respect differences. You can and will certainly disagree with some classmates' points of view. I encourage you to voice those disagreements in a way that does not devalue the other person.
- Always check your language for "tone." If in doubt, ask someone at home to read and assess your comments before posting.
- Do not fall victim to the "disinhibition effect" (a.k.a. Cyber Courage) Do not post something or send an email that you would not feel comfortable saying to the other person face-to-face. Use appropriate language for an educational environment.

Students who do not comply are not allowed to complete and receive grades on assignments.

Regarding communication with your professors: Make sure that all communications to your professors represent you in a way you want to be seen by your professors. Remember, email is formal written communication and should be treated as such.

- Use a clear subject line. The subject "Rhetorical Analysis Essay" would work a bit better than "heeeeelp!" (and much better than the unforgivable blank subject line).
- Use a salutation and signature. Instead of jumping right into your message or saying "hey," begin with a greeting like "Hello" or "Good afternoon," and then address your professor by appropriate title and last name, such as "Prof. Espinosa" or "Ms. Espinosa."
- Use standard punctuation, capitalization, spelling and grammar. Instead of writing "idk what 2 rite about in my paper can you help??" try something more like, "I am writing to ask about the topics you suggested in class yesterday." Use complete sentences. Avoid slang and uncommon abbreviations.
- Do your part in solving what you need to solve. Instead of asking, "What's our homework for tonight?" you might write, "I looked through the syllabus and course website for this weekend's assigned homework, but unfortunately I am unable to locate it."
- Be aware of concerns about entitlement. If you appear to demand help, shrug off absences or assume late work will be accepted without penalty because you have a good reason, your professors may see you as irresponsible or presumptuous. Be respectful when communicating with your professors and others in your classroom.

Because this is a classroom environment, all communication from you is fair game for teachable moments. I understand that many students approach communicating with an instructor in a similar way to texting friends where the norms are brevity and informality. Professional communication will be essential to your future success, so when contacting me, please adhere to the guidelines above. Emails that do not meet the guidelines below may be politely returned for a second attempt.

Assessments for Class:

Museum of Fine Arts Houston \(MFAH\) Field Trip PowerPoint: NO LATE WORK ACCEPTED.

- Take three (3) selfies with each of your artworks as proof of your 'attendance.'

Your observation will not be accepted without proof of attendance. Submit your selfie with your museum visit requirements (PR), (SR)

- At least 23 slides if not more to be considered for full credit. Use a twelve-point font throughout your slides.
- Your class textbook must be used as one of your sources.
- A minimum of four secondary sources plus your textbook is also required and you cannot get all your sources from the Internet. That means five (5) total sources.
- All academic internet sources must be turned in with your PowerPoint or you will receive a failing grade (0) on your work.

Failure to follow the Museum of Fine Arts Houston (MFAH) Field Trip PowerPoint instructions resulting in a (0), failing grade for the research PowerPoint and presentation (CS1) (CS2) (CS3)

*See complete instructions under each subsection of the course listed under Course Content.

If you are unable to attend a museum, a substitute six-page research paper for this assignment. Subject matter is assigned by the professor. Please contact long before the Field Trip Paper is due.

PowerPoint Oral Presentation: NO LATE WORK ACCEPTED.

- You will be required to video tape your presentation of your PowerPoint.
- You must give a brief presentation (5 minutes) highlighting the main points of your PowerPoint. When giving your presentation please show your face.

*Complete guidelines will be available in the learning module early in the semester so you can plan accordingly.

AND

Exams: NO LATE WORK IS ACCEPTED.

- There will be three exams.
- The exams will consist of short answer, essay, and identification.
- The final exam may be comprehensive.
- Exams are not timed but must be completed during the weekly module presented.

- Exams may be essay or multiple choice and short answer on D2L (Brightspace). (CT)

AND

Quizzes: NO LATE WORK ACCEPTED.

- You will have 11 weekly quizzes throughout the semester.
- Quizzes will consist of ten true/false questions about background information or the literary selections.
- All quizzes are due by Sunday, by 11:59 pm (CT) during that weekly module is open.

AND

Discussions: NO LATE WORK ACCEPTED.

A large part of the learning process is done in collaboration with others- discussing the readings, brainstorming ideas about them, and listening to others. In this class, these activities are imperative to successful completion of the course. Our online discussions will be a part of the important part of the classroom experience. Once each week you will join a discussion on D2L (Brightspace)'s Discussion board. Most weeks you will be asked to respond to a question (or questions) or topic(s) that I post. The idea is to start or join a discussion on the week's topics.

Regarding your Museum Visit PowerPoint: must have a Works Cited Page. Complete bibliographical details of each work must be given. The title, author, publisher (or journal title), date, place of publication (or Internet address), and page number(s) should be given. Use as many sources as you want from the Internet, but see cautionary note below. Whenever you quote a source, paraphrase it, refer to it, or use it to support or document a claim, you must cite that source.

Internet Sources and other sources

The internet is a great research tool; feel free to use it in doing research for your paper. However, Internet sources are not generally peer-reviewed or otherwise monitored for reliability, accuracy, or integrity. Therefore, use considerable caution when citing material from the Internet. Make sure that the source is worthwhile. Use of Internet encyclopedias is discouraged. In addition, sources such as Wikipedia, while possibly useful to give you an overview of a subject, are not appropriate scholarly sources for an academic paper. The instructor reserves the right to determine whether a quoted source is appropriate or not. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about the appropriateness of Internet materials. You must turn in embedded hyperlink of all source material used for your paper or project.

Religious Sources – Do not use religious books for academic sources. Use good academic sources such as articles from the databases as support. Do not use The Bible, The Quran, etc.

Discussions

They will be worth 10 points each based on the rubric below:

Objective Criteria	Exceeds Expectations (5 points)	Meets Expectations (4 points)	Acceptable (3 points)	Needs Improvement (2 points)	Minimal Response (1 points)	Failing (0 points)
Content	Criteria for Meets Expectations plus, really exceptional posting with examples. Addressed each person responded to with their name. 5 points	Thoughtful and insightful; subject given appropriate depth; posted on time;150-200 words. 4 points	Thoughtful; subject given appropriate depth; no examples; posted on time; 150-200 words. ---	-------------------------------------	---	---	--	--	--

Replies to Postings

- Your responses must be more than “I agree with you.” If you want full credit for your response, your reply must have some substance. If you agree with a posting, why do you agree? If you disagree, why?
- When you respond to others, observe the rules of Netiquette—we don’t have the advantage of body language and tone of voice to moderate our words. Since our replies can happen at the click of a button and cannot be retracted, be polite even as you disagree with someone.

Do NOT leave your assignment in the comment section for discussions, doing so results in a zero (0).

- Be aware of your audience and purpose (remember English 1301?) (SR) Discussion postings and replies are due by Sunday, by 11:59 pm

GRADING RUBRIC FOR ASSIGNMENTS: Determination of Course Grade/Detailed Grading Formula (methods of evaluation to be employed to include a variety of means to evaluate student performance):

Research PowerPoint and Oral Presentation	255 points
Group discussions	110 points
Quizzes	110 points
Exams (3)	525 points
Total Points	1000 points

Grading Scale

900–1000	A	Exceptionally fine work; superior in presentation, visual observation, comprehension and participation
800–899	B	Above average work; superior in one or two areas
700–799	C	Average work; good, unexceptional participation
600–699	D	Below average work; noticeably weak with minimal participation

Below 600	F	Clearly deficient in presentation, style and content with a lack of participation. "F" for the student who attended class regularly, but was unable to earn a passing grade.

Please Note: Due to the calendar schedule, plan on posting/submitting assignments in advance of scheduled due dates and times. Please remember that sometime problems arise with computer technology, therefore it is advantageous not to wait until the last minute to submit assignments. If you are experiencing technical difficulties, it is highly suggested that you contact the Help Desk well in advance of scheduled due dates/ times. Due to the nature of this course, accommodations are not awarded for human and/or computer errors, vacations, work schedules, personal issues or illnesses.

This is a flexible and tentative schedule. It is possible that these dates will change slightly due to various circumstances. It is the student's responsibility to follow the schedule to submit assignments on time according to the above schedule. Any reminders from your instructor are a courtesy.

Grading Schedule: Allow the same amount of time for your instructor to grade your assignments as you were given to complete them. For example, if you were given 1 week to complete an assignment, allow 1 week for your instructor to grade your assignment. Again, 3 weeks for you to complete the assignment, allow 3 weeks to grade the assignment. Contact me within one week of grade posting if there is a grade in question.

Attendance Policy: Make every effort to sign in each day. Students who have gone without signing in for two weeks will be considered to have excessive absences. There is a definite correlation between poor attendance and poor performance in class. If you do not submit an assignment when it is due, you will receive a zero on the assignment, which cannot be made-up. Please review the course syllabus for the due dates which are in bold. Do not schedule appointments, vacations, and other personal business on these dates. Per the State of Texas, the only acceptable absences are religious holidays and military service. Please see your college handbook for additional information regarding class attendance. NO points are given to attend college class. Refer to grades available.

Please be on time with assignments. Failure to sign in may result in your inability to complete course assignments by their respective deadlines, which may result in being dropped from the course for lack of progress.

Tardiness Policy: Students are expected to complete work on time.

Withdrawal Policy: Students are responsible for their own withdrawal from a course; however, instructor reserves the right to withdraw any student whose absences and/or lack of participation (including submission of course assignments) results in an inability to complete the Student Learner Outcomes and Core Objectives. College policy forbids instructors from issuing W grades after W-day.

Withdrawal Policy: Students may withdraw from this course for any reason prior to the last eligible day for a “W” grade. Before withdrawing students should speak with the instructor and consult an advisor. Students are permitted to withdraw only six times during their college career by state law. The last date to withdraw from the 1st 8-week session is October 5. The last date to withdraw from the 16-week session is November 18. The last date to withdraw for the 2nd 8-week session is December 1.

Student Responsibilities:

- Be respectful of your professor and fellow classmates. Treat others in a professional manner to reflect well on yourself.
- Be aware of others’ feelings. It is easy to react to a comment and send a reply quickly without thinking through the language and tone. In an online environment, responses are instantaneous, and we can’t take them back once they are sent.
- Take full responsibility for your work and the successful completion of it.
- Be aware of others’ feelings. It is easy to react to a comment and send a reply quickly without thinking through the language and tone. In an online environment, responses are instantaneous, and we can’t take them back once they are sent.
- Participate fully in the discussions and dialogue in the class. The more you put into the class, the more you will get out of it.
- Check your Mail in D2L (Brightspace) several times a week.
- Stay in touch with me and your cyber classmates.
- Allow enough time each week to complete the assignments. Set aside the hours you would spend in class plus 1 ½ to 3 hours for “homework” for this class (6-9 hours per week total).
- Be academically honest. Much of our learning during this course will be collaborative. You’ll discuss ideas together in the Discussions and email one another with questions/ideas/inspirations/gripes. This collaboration is crucial. However, you must, finally, do your own work. Students who submit plagiarized work are subject to the same penalties as those that apply to students in an on-campus course.
- Keep up with the assignments.

Instructor responsibilities:

- I will do my best to help students understand humanities.
- I will return work to students in a reasonable amount of time. Please allow the same amount of time for grading as you were given to complete an assignment. For example, if you were given three weeks to complete an assignment, allow three weeks for the assignment to be graded.

- I will consider each student's work in an unbiased fashion.
- I will check my email (D2L (Brightspace) account) at least 3 days a week Monday, Wednesday and Friday early mornings.
- I will post assignments or changes in the schedule in a timely manner.

A General Note about Work Submitted: All work needs to be submitted in the appropriate place. For example, discussions must be submitted through the discussion board, and assignments must be submitted through the appropriate assignment drop box. Any assignment not submitted in the appropriate place will earn the grade of (0).

Please do not send assignments to any email address. They are not graded.

A General Note about Work Returned: Please allow the same amount of time for grading as you were given to complete an assignment. For example, if you were given three weeks to complete an assignment, allow three weeks for the assignment to be graded.

FN Grading: The FN grade is issued in cases of failure due to a lack of attendance, as determined by the instructor. The FN grade may be issued for cases in which the student ceases or fails to attend class, submit assignments, or participate in required capacities, and for which the student has failed to withdraw. The issuing of the FN grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an FN grade.

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook. <https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf>. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal. https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf

Appropriate Document Formats: All work must be submitted in the appropriate format (doc or docx). Remember if you are using a Mac or Open Office to convert your documents into the proper format. Any document that cannot be opened or read will receive a grade of (0).

ADA Statement: Any student with a documented disability needing academic accommodations is requested to contact Kimberly Lachney at 409-933-8919 or klachney@com.edu. The Office of Services for Students with Disabilities is located in the Student Success Center.

Early Alert Program: The Student Success Center at College of the Mainland has implemented an Early Alert Program because student success and retention is very important to us. I have been asked to refer students to the program throughout the semester if they are having difficulty completing assignments or have poor attendance. If you are referred to the Early Alert Program you will be contacted by someone in the Student Success Center who will schedule a meeting with you to see what assistance they can offer in order for you to meet your academic goals.

Academic Success & Support Services: College of the Mainland is committed to providing students the necessary support and tools for success in their college careers. Support is offered through our Tutoring Services, Library, Counseling, and through Student Services. Please discuss any concerns with your faculty or an advisor.

Classroom Conduct Policy: College of the Mainland requires that students enrolled at COM be familiar with the Standards of Student Conduct, which can be found in the on-line Student Handbook. <http://www.com.edu/student-services/student-handbook.php>. Students are expected to be familiar with and abide by the Student Code of Conduct. Any violations of the Code of Conduct will result in a referral to the Dean of Students and may result in dismissal from this class.

Academic Dishonesty: Any incident of academic dishonesty will be dealt with in accordance with college policy and the Student Handbook. Academic dishonesty – such as cheating on exams – is an extremely serious offense and will result in a grade of zero on that exam and the student will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for the appropriate discipline action.

Plagiarism: Plagiarism is a serious offense and will not be tolerated. Plagiarism is using someone else's words or ideas and claiming them as your own. Plagiarism is a very serious offense. Plagiarism includes paraphrasing someone else's words without giving proper citation, copying directly from a website and pasting it into your paper, using someone else's words without quotation marks. Any assignment containing any plagiarized material will receive a grade of zero and the student will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for the appropriate disciplinary action.

HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT: PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. To plagiarize is to steal the words or ideas of another and pass them off as one's own. Two forms of plagiarism are common. In the first form, the writer incorporates published or otherwise recorded material without properly acknowledging its sources. In the second form, the writer submits work actually done by someone else. (The student who allows his or her work to be used by others is also guilty.)

Any student who plagiarizes will receive a grade of "0" on his or her plagiarized work and may, as a result, receive a failing grade in the course. Ignorance will not be an acceptable defense: all students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the rules of documentation. Violation of the Plagiarism Policy may result in a referral to the College of the Mainland Judicial Coordinator or further disciplinary actions as stated in the current Student Handbook < <http://www.com.edu/student-services/student-handbook.php>>.

Note: All work submitted in College of the Mainland ENGL, HUMN or PHIL classes must conform to the documentation system established by the Modern Language Association (MLA). MLA documentation guidelines are distributed by your instructor, found in your textbook or on reserve in the library < <http://library.com.edu/>>. Documentation in SPCH classes is up to the individual instructor. It may be either MLA or APA style; check with your instructor and follow the appropriate system guidelines.

To document using the MLA system, you must provide an in-text parenthetical citation and a corresponding entry on a Works Cited page. "Source" may refer to published works (including material available from electronic/computer networks or databases), electronically broadcast programs, films, recordings, interviews, speeches, or lectures.

- You must document when you quote directly from another source.
- You must document when you paraphrase words from another source.
- You must document when you summarize ideas from another source.
- You must document when you use facts (statistics in a chart or graph, for example) or visual material from another source.

Concerns/Questions Statement: If you have any questions or concerns about any aspect of this course, please contact me using the contact information previously provided. If, after discussing your concern with me, you continue to have questions, please contact Humanities Department Chair Brian Anderson at (409) 933-8186 or banderson@com.edu

General Education Core Objectives: Students successfully completing this course will demonstrate competency in the following Core Objectives:

1. Critical Thinking Skills: Students will demonstrate creative thinking, innovation, and the ability to analyze, evaluate, and synthesize information.
2. Communication Skills: Develop, interpret, and express ideas through written, oral, and visual communication.

3. Social Responsibility: Students will demonstrate intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities.
4. Personal Responsibility: Evaluate choices and actions of others or one's own, and relate consequences to ethical decision-making.

Following Directions:

Students are expected to follow assignment directions in order to earn credit for the assignment. Like many other course policies, this mirrors real-world expectations. While employers often value innovation and creativity, they also assume that an employee will follow directions carefully whenever specific directions are given. In this course, following directions includes adhering to specified essay length, document format, topic restrictions, submission instructions, and so on. In short, students should do what the instructor directs them to do. Submitted assignments that fail to follow directions may receive a grade of zero.

Technical Outage Issues: Fill out a D2L (Brightspace) ticket. Distance Education will determine if it is a D2L (Brightspace) error. If it is a D2L (Brightspace) error or server error and deemed as such, you will be allowed to make up a quiz. If not, you will not be allowed to make it up. Please do not email me to reset your quiz.

Course Attendance Policy: In order to be successful in an online course, make every effort to log on at least once a day. Changes in the schedule will be posted under the announcement function in D2L (Brightspace). Online class is measured by some completion of a meaningful activity, however minor. Just logging in isn't enough. This means a student who keeps logging in but doesn't even respond to emails should be counted as "never attended" on the Census Roster.

COVID-19 Statement: All students, faculty, and staff are expected to familiarize themselves with materials and information contained on the College of the Mainland's Coronavirus Information site at www.com.edu/coronavirus. Students are required to watch a training video, complete the self-screening, and acknowledge the safety guidance at: www.com.edu/selfscreen. In addition, students, faculty, and staff must perform a self-screening prior to each campus visit. Finally, students, faculty, or staff who have had symptoms of COVID-19, received a positive test for COVID-19, or have had close contact with an individual infected with COVID-19 must complete the self-report too.

Resources to Help with Stress: If you are experiencing stress or anxiety about your daily living needs including food, housing or just feel you could benefit from free resources to help you through a difficult time, please click here <https://www.com.edu/community-resource-center/>. College of the Mainland has partnered with free community resources to help you stay on track with your schoolwork, by addressing life issues that get in the way of doing your best in school. All services are private and confidential. You may also contact the Dean of Students office at deanofstudents@com.edu or communityresources@com.edu
