My Teaching Philosophy

Learning is best achieved when students become engaged with the material and discover information on their own. Students also need interaction with other learners through discussions, debates, collaboration, and evaluation. Individual learners also need to reflect on their learning—to evaluate their past experiences and how they relate to their present situation, and to plan for future learning and growth. A teacher's job is to help learners with this on-going process.

This philosophy places students at the center of their own learning and in charge of it.

Required Textbooks

Lunsford, Andrea A., John J. Ruskiewicz, and Keith Walters. Everything's an Argument with Readings. 9th ed. Bedford St. Martins, 2022. NOTE: Be sure you get the NEW 9th edition with readings.

This textbook has multiple types of editions. Be sure you have access to the readings in "Part 5: Arguments." This section begins on page 541 (chapter 23). If your book does not have this printed section, be sure you get an access code to the online textbook. If you have questions, email me ASAP.

Other Requirements

You must use Microsoft Office Word for your essays and other written work. You may download a free copy of Office 365 through the College web site.

Blackboard

This class has a Blackboard component. You are expected to turn in most major written assignments such as essays through a link in Blackboard. I will post the syllabus, assignments, and other course documents in the class so that you will have 24/7 access, and I will keep the grade book up-to-date so you can check your grades.

In the event of school closure due to weather or my unexpected absence, it is your responsibility to log into Blackboard to check for announcements regarding assignments

Course Description

This course involves intensive study of and practice in the strategies and techniques for developing research-based expository and persuasive texts. Emphases are on effective and ethical rhetorical inquiry, including primary and secondary research methods; critical reading of verbal, visual, and multimedia texts; systematic evaluation, synthesis, and documentation of information sources; and critical thinking about evidence and conclusions.

Prerequisite: An earned grade of "C" or better in English 1301

Composition II is an academic transfer course satisfying COM's Communication's Core Curriculum requirement.

Course Requirements

1. Essays

You will write 3 essays this semester that focus on academic writing. All will require research; all will require you to read from the textbook. You will receive handouts for each of these papers. Essay 1 @ 100 points; Essay 2 @ 125; Essay 3 @ 175 points (400 points total)

In addition, you will be required to email your specific essay topics to me. The due dates will be in the Essay Assignment Handouts. Emailing your topic is worth 5 points for each essay (3 @ 5 points each; 15 points total).

2. Prewriting Activities

For each essay, you will complete a prewriting assignment to help you organize your thoughts and ideas. Separate handouts for each will be available the week the essay is assigned. (3 @ 25 points each; 75 points total)

3. Peer Review

For each essay as part of the writing process, you will participate in peer review. You must bring 2 (two) copies of your essay draft the day of Peer Review.

For each peer review, you will be provided with a list of areas and questions to review for each paper. Each peer review is worth 20 points: 10 points for bringing your essay and 5 points for each of the 2 reviews you write (10 points). You may not earn extra points for reviewing for more than 2 essays. (3 @ 20 points each; 60 points total)

4. Reflections

Self-evaluations and applications for writing. You will write 3 of these during the course: one for Essay 1, one for Essay 2, and a final. These pieces will require you to think about your learning and progress in rhetoric and writing. The final Reflection will require you to think about your writing process and what you have learned all semester. Detailed instructions will be provided for each. (25 points for 1 and 2; 100 points for the final; 150 points total)

5. Collaborative Research Project (Wiki)

You will be assigned a partner to work together to design a Wiki to present information about one of the issues we are reading and writing about this semester. A handout with specifics will be provided. (150 points)

You will also need to email me the topic for the Wiki Project. See handout and weekly overview for the date your topic is due. (5 points)

6. In Class Discussion and Activities/Group Work

Throughout the semester, we will have discussions, short writing assignments, and small group work in class. There will be approximately 15 during the semester and each is worth 10 points (150 total points for in class work). The number and therefore the points may change based on the actual number of these activities we do.

7. Oral Presentation

The oral presentation will be 3-5 minutes in length over the Wiki page that you and your partner(s) create. Specific instructions will be provided in class. (50 points)

Miscellaneous Assignments

Syllabus Quiz: 10 points
Topics emailed: 20 points (4 @ 5 points each)

There may be other assignments that I have not listed, but generally, these are the kinds of work we will do this term.

Assessment

All essays and discussions, the Wiki project, and Oral Presentation have rubrics that I will use to grade the assignments. All rubrics are in the Assessment Folder on the Course Menu. The essay rubrics will be given out in class when an essay assignment is made.

Grading Formula

A cumulative point system for grading is used in this class.

Essays (points vary)	400 points
Reflections (2 @ 25 points; 1 @100)	150 points
Wiki Project	150 points
In class activities (15 @ 10 points each)	150 points
Prewriting Assignments (3 @ 25 points)	75 points
Peer Reviews (3 @ 20 points each)	60 points
Oral Presentation	50 points
Miscellaneous (points vary)	30 points
Total	1065 points*

Grading Scale: A = 958 - 1065
B = 852 - 957
C = 745 - 851
D = 639 - 744
F = 638 and below

Your grade will be based on the number of points you have earned divided by the total points available. The Blackboard gradebook keeps a running total of points so that you can always see how you are doing. The total points in My Grades includes all assignments for the course whether they have been graded or not (for an accurate grade, subtract the points on ungraded assignments before dividing).*

Late Work

I do not like to accept late work. However, I understand that occasionally a student may have an unexpected problem getting an assignment in on time – for whatever reason. If you find yourself in that situation, you need to email me ASAP.

I will deduct the equivalent of one letter grade from the score as penalty.

If you are having trouble with an assignment, let me know BEFORE it is due. I will work with you as much as I can.

Make-up Policy

Generally, any in-class group work cannot be made up. However, many assignments can be done outside of class and turned in either in Blackboard or a hard copy in class (your choice). Late Work policy will apply if applicable.

Extra Credit

The only extra credit that I award is for completing the course evaluation available toward the end of the semester. If you complete the evaluation, I will add 5 points to your course point total.

NOTE: As with all course evaluations, I will not see the results until after grades are in and they are not identified by name, so the results are completely anonymous. I only receive a list of students who have completed the Course Evaluation.

Submission Policy

I prefer that your essays and related assignments be submitted through the Assignment Links in Blackboard that include a SafeAssign component.

Attendance Policy

COM recognizes no excused absences other than those prescribed by law: religious holy days and military service (see the current Student Handbook).

In accordance with that policy, I recommend that you miss no more than 4 classes, for whatever reason. Missing classes will affect your grade. Please do not schedule doctor's appointments or other events during class time.

Communicating with Your Instructor

Email me within our Blackboard (BB) class unless you are having problems accessing BB. I am listed as Terry White (instructor). Use my COM email in the event you cannot access Blackboard. In your email, send me a phone number where I can call and leave a message if necessary. I will call you as soon as I can.

ALL electronic communication with me outside of Blackboard must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means.

If you have computer problems and CANNOT access Blackboard or the Internet, leave a voice mail on my office phone above, and I will call you as soon as I can.

I try to answer emails within 24 hours.

Academic Dishonesty: Any incident of academic policy will be dealt with in accordance with college policy and the Student Handbook. Academic dishonesty – such as cheating on exams is an extremely serious offense and will result in a grade of zero on that exam and the student will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for the appropriate discipline action.

HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT: PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. To plagiarize is to steal the words or ideas of another and pass them off as one’s own. Two forms of plagiarism are common. In the first form, the writer incorporates published or otherwise recorded material without properly acknowledging its sources. In the second form, the writer submits work actually done by someone else. (The student who allows his/her work to be used by others is also guilty.)

Any student who plagiarizes will receive a grade of “0” on his/her plagiarized work and may, as a result, receive a failing grade in the course. Ignorance will not be an acceptable defense: all students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the rules of documentation.

Violation of the Plagiarism Policy may result in a referral to the College of the Mainland Judicial Coordinator or further disciplinary actions as stated in the current Student Handbook.

“Source” may refer to published works (including material available from electronic/computer networks or databases), electronically broadcast programs, films, recordings, interviews, speeches, or lectures.

1. You must document when you quote directly from another source.
2. You must document when you paraphrase words from another source.
3. You must document when you summarize ideas from another source.
4. You must document when you use facts (statistics in a chart or graph, for example) or visual material from another source.

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook. <https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf>. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.

The issuing of the F_N grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an F_N grade.

Early Alert Program: The Student Success Center at College of the Mainland has implemented an Early Alert Program because student success and retention are very important to us. I have been asked to refer students to the program throughout the semester if they are having difficulty completing assignments or have poor attendance. If you are referred to the Early Alert Program you will be contacted by someone in the Student Success Center who will schedule a meeting with you to see what assistance they can offer in order for you to meet your academic goals.

COVID-19 Statement: All students, faculty, and staff are expected to familiarize themselves with materials and information contained on the College of the Mainland's Coronavirus Information site at www.com.edu/coronavirus. In compliance with Governor Abbott's May 18 Executive Order, face coverings/masks will no longer be required on COM campus. Protocols and college signage are being updated. Technology Outage Policy

Campus-Wide

Students are responsible for completing all course work by the due dates stated in the assignment schedule. Occasionally the College may experience emergency campus-wide technology outages. Should this occur during a Quiz or submission of an Assignment, you will need to notify the instructor. You will need the Quiz to be reset or for the instructor to extend assignment due date. The assignment due date will be extended or the quiz will be reset after the campus-wide outage is confirmed by Informational Technology.

An Announcement will be sent to all students relaying the information about the new due date for the assignment or quiz. In case of a personal technology issue or if you have questions about an assignment or need clarification of requirements, you are expected to contact the instructor using Course Email. The College has a number of computer labs so access to requisite technology needed to complete assignments should not be an issue.

Personal Technology Outage

You should have a back-up plan in case you experience problems with your computer or internet service. If you experience technology problems, it is your responsibility to turn your work in on time. If you experience Internet problems, fill out a support ticket before you contact your instructor. The link can be found under the Resources Menu, "COM, Course and Technical Links" on the left side bar of the course; click on the link and submit a support ticket.
