Course requirements:

Course Exams

During the semester, there are four scheduled class exams. All exams will be administered online, and each exam is worth 10% of your overall grade. It is imperative that students keep up with class assignments and readings if they wish to succeed in this course. The exam dates are listed in the course calendar (see below). Each exam will consist of a combination of 75 objective questions worth 1 point apiece. There will also be an essay question for each exam which is worth 25 points. Each exam will cover only the material since the last exam, including both the readings and class discussion. You will only have 75 minutes to complete exams one, two, and three. You will have 120 minutes to complete exam four.

Quizzes

In addition, there will be fourteen quizzes that you will take on blackboard. Each quiz is worth 2% of your overall grade within the course. Your four lowest quiz grades will be dropped at the end of the semester. The quiz dates are listed in the course calendar (see below).

Discussions

Discussions represent the interactive component of this course. Each unit will have one current event question associated with it. These topics are related to the current controversies taking place in Texas politics today. These forums are a way of exchanging information with your fellow students. There will be four discussion questions that I will post throughout the semester online. Each discussion is worth 5% of your overall grade within the course. The discussion dates are listed in the course calendar (see below). Late posts will not be graded!! Pay close attention to due dates! Follow the discussion guidelines posted if you expect to receive full credit for the discussions.

Research Paper

Students will be expected to write a research paper for the class and submit it through Blackboard. The paper must be submitted by 11:59 p.m. Sunday, August 8th, 2021. The paper is worth 20% of your overall grade within the course. Guidelines for the paper will be posted on Blackboard.

Determination of Course Grade/Detailed Grading Formula:

Grading Scale:

Exam One = 10%

Exam Two = 10%

Exam Three = 10%

Exam Four = 10%

Quizzes = 20% (There are 14 quizzes, I drop the lowest 4)

Discussions = 20% (There are 4 discussions, each discussion represents 5% of overall grade)

Research Paper = 20%

Total = 100%

Grades will be assigned according to the following scale at the end of the semester:

89.5-100=A

79.5-89.4=B

69.5-79.4=C

59.5-69.4=D

Below a 59.4=F

Make-Up Policy: All assignments are given a due date. If students are absent from class, it is their responsibility to obtain the assignments given in class. Assignments are to be turned in by the due date. If students miss a quiz or a discussion, they will not be accepted and will be given the grade of 0 (zero). Students who miss exams one, two or three have an opportunity to make up the exam; however, there will be a 30-point deduction. There will be no opportunities to make up exam four if missed; a grade of zero will be given for exam four. Students who miss an exam must contact the instructor to schedule when they are to take the exam. Please note: that if a student has a valid excuse then I will allow them to make up missed work without any type of penalty being assessed. Documentation must be provided such as a doctor's note.

All students are expected to be present on test days designated by the instructor. Exams must be taken at their scheduled times and may not be made up later without prior approval of the instructor.

Attendance Policy: If you want to pass, come to class. In an online environment, this means you should sign in at a minimum of two times a week and should expect to spend at least an hour a week in the course reviewing and completing ancillary and supplemental activities and other course material. The online material goes beyond the material presented in the text, and you will be held accountable for this material on the exams and course assignments. The discussion component of the course also requires you to engage you fellow students in “conversation,” which requires you to regularly read and respond to posts.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means. (Faculty may add additional statement requiring monitoring and communication expectations via Blackboard or other LMS)

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook. <https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf.

An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.

Success Tips for Students:

1. Read the syllabus. The syllabus is a critical resource for any course. It is the road map or ‘game plan’ for the entire course—get to know it well. Print a copy on the first day of class, read through it twice.
2. Plan weekly study times. Studying, participating in forums, and completing assignments in an online class can be challenging, even more so when juggling multiple responsibilities. Time management is vital for online students.
3. Log onto the course home a minimum three times per week. Logging onto the course home page consistently each week is associated with higher grades for students according to several studies on online student behavior. Get into the habit of checking in consistently, even daily, to read discussion posts, check for instructor announcements and/or review course materials.
