Course Description:

English 1302 involves the intensive study of and practice in the strategies and techniques for development research-based expository and persuasive texts. Emphases are on the effective and ethical rhetorical inquiry, including primary and secondary research methods; critical reading of verbal, visual, and multimedia texts; systematic evaluation, synthesis, and documentation of information sources; and critical thinking about evidence and conclusions.

This is a hybrid course. This means you will have assignments to complete online prior to the weekly class meetings. Students will need to have computer and internet access to complete assignments for this course.

Prerequisite: An earned grade of “C” or better in English 1301.

Course requirements:

1. Class Activities (Class Activities, Journals, Discussion, Quizzes, and Participation) (10%) – Class activities, journal and discussion prompts, and quizzes will be assigned when necessary to highlight course concepts in alignment with major course assignments.

2. Revision and Editing Activities (20%) – This aspect of the writing process will utilize different techniques as presented in course material. The essay rough draft will be due by the beginning of class, as specified on the essay assignment sheet. This draft is required to complete the revision and editing activities before a final draft of an essay is submitted in Brightspace.
3. Essay Assignments (25%) – Two essays will be assigned during the semester. Each essay will need to be completed in MLA format and 3-4 pages in length.
4. Presentation Assignment (15%) – A paper presentation will be completed as an extension of one of the essay assignments. Information will be included on the essay assignment sheet.
5. Argumentative Research Project (30%) – A longer (6-7 pages) researched argumentative essay will be assigned at the beginning of the semester. Topics will be assigned during class. Additional research activities will be completed in preparation for the submission of the final research paper and are included in this grading percentage.

Determination of Course Grade/Detailed Grading Formula:

Class Activities/Journal and Discussion Prompts/Quizzes/Participation:	10%
Revision and Editing Activities:	20%
Essay Assignments:	25%
Oral Presentation:	15%
Argumentative Research Project:	30%

Final grading will be assigned based on the following scale.

- 100-90 = A
- 89-80 = B
- 79-70 = C
- 69-60 = D
- 59 & Below = F

Late Work, Make-Up, and Extra-Credit Policy:

Late Work/Make-up Policy: Deadlines are posted on Brightspace, the course syllabus, course calendar, and assignment sheets given in class. Assignments must be turned in to Brightspace before 11:59 p.m. on the specified due date. Assignments submitted up to three days past the due date will receive a deduction of 15 points. Assignments submitted beyond this point will not be accepted unless special arrangements are made BEFORE the due date.

NOTE: Absences at any point in the semester will not affect your due dates. Don't get caught believing you have extra days to turn in an assignment just because you have been absent. It is vital to your success to communicate any issues you are having early in the writing process before any due date.

Extra Credit: Extra Credit will only be awarded in two ways. 1) Five points extra credit will be applied to any essay reviewed by the COM Writing Center or Net Tutor. Evidence of the writing center visit must be submitted in Brightspace along with the final paper in order to receive credit.

2) Three additional percentage points will be awarded to students who complete the online course evaluation at the end of the semester.

Attendance Policy:

You are expected to be prepared and in class on time, ready to fully participate in every scheduled class session. Class discussion and group activities are components of your success in this course. A sign-in sheet will be provided during each class to keep a record of attendance. Be sure you sign in when you enter the classroom. It is your responsibility to keep up with missed course work should you need to miss a class.

Aside from military service and religious holidays, absences in college courses are not defined as being “excused” or “unexcused.” You are allowed to miss five (3) classes for the entire semester. After you have reached this limit, I will deduct one full letter grade from your semester average for each additional absence. For example, if your semester average is a 92 (“A”) and you have missed a total of seven classes for the semester, your final semester grade will be a 72 (“C”). As you can see, excessive absences can easily eat away at your semester average, so avoid skipping class and reserve these absences in case a personal issue arises.

Tardiness: It is vital to the classroom experience to be on time. Students arriving five (5) minutes after the beginning of class will receive a “mark” in attendance. Three (3) of these marks will equal to one absence. Students arriving after the 20 minute point will remain marked absent for the class period. These same rules apply to leaving early.

Please do not abuse the above policy: It is meant to be insurance, not an excuse to arrive late to class every day. I reserve the right to revoke this policy if I feel it is being abused by any individual in the class.

*Absences are considered excused for military service, religious holidays, and documented illness.

Communicating with your instructor: ALL electronic communication with the instructor must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means. I will check my e-mail throughout the weekday and generally will respond within 24 hours. Exceptions apply to times of illness, campus holidays, and weekends.

Institutional Policies and Guidelines

Grade Appeal Process: Concerns about the accuracy of grades should first be discussed with the instructor. A request for a change of grade is a formal request and must be made within six months of the grade assignment. Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook https://www.com.edu/student-services/docs/Student_Handbook_2023-2024_v2.pdf. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal.

The FN grade may be issued for cases in which the student ceases or fails to attend class, submit assignments, or participate in required capacities, and for which the student has failed to withdraw. The issuing of the FN grade is at the discretion of the instructor. The last date of attendance should be documented for submission of an FN grade.
