My Teaching Philosophy

Learning is best achieved when students become engaged with the material and discover information on their own. Students also need interaction with other learners through discussions, debates, collaboration, and evaluation. Individual learners also need to reflect on their learning—to evaluate his/her past experiences and how they relate to his/her present situation, and to plan for future learning and growth. A teacher's job is to help learners with this on-going process.

This philosophy places students at the center of their own learning and in charge of it.

Required Textbook

The Norton Anthology of English Literature: The Major Authors. Vol. 2. 10th ed. Gen Ed.
Stephen Greenblatt. WW Norton, 2019.

A note about the book: you can use any edition of the Norton Anthology or find many of the reading selections online. However, you must check the reading assignments for the chapters, sections, or specific poems in the Calendar IF you are NOT using the listed edition.

Other Requirements

You must use Microsoft Office Word for your essays and reflective pieces. You may download a free copy of Office 365 through the College web site.

In the event of school closure due to weather or my unexpected absence, it is your responsibility to log into Blackboard to check for announcements regarding assignments

Grading Formula

A cumulative point system for grading is used in this course. The points listed are the maximum value a student can earn on the different assignments.

Exams (3 @ 100 points each)	300 points
Discussions (15 @ 10 points each)	150 points
Essays (2 @ 100 points each)	200 points
Prewriting Assignment for Essay 1	25 points
Annotated Working Bib for Essay 1	50 points
Quizzes (3 @ 10 points)	30 points
Reflection	100 points

	B = 692 - 777
	C = 605 - 691
	D = 519 - 604
	F = 518 or less

I have made every effort to calculate the total number of points correctly for every assignment and for the course. Your grade will be based on the number of points you have earned divided by the total points available.*

Late Work

I do not like to accept late work. However, I understand that occasionally a student may have an unexpected problem getting an assignment in on time – for whatever reason. If you find yourself in that situation, you need to email me ASAP.

I will deduct the equivalent of one letter grade from the score as penalty.

If you are having trouble with an assignment, let me know BEFORE it is due. I will work with you as much as I can.

Make-up Policy

There is no make-up work in an online class. You either participate in the discussions and turn in your papers, or you don't.

Extra Credit

The only extra credit that I award is for completing the course evaluation available toward the end of the semester. If you complete the evaluation, I will add 5 points to your course point total.

NOTE: As with all course evaluations, I will not see the results until after grades are in and they are not identified by name, so the results are completely anonymous. I only receive a list of students who have completed the Course Evaluation.

Submission Policy

I prefer that your essays and related assignments be submitted through the Assignment Links in Blackboard that include a SafeAssign component. If you cannot submit an assignment electronically, you may turn in a hard copy at the beginning of the class period it is due.

Attendance Policy

COM recognizes no excused absences other than those prescribed by law: religious holy days and military service (see the current Student Handbook).

In accordance with that policy, I recommend that you miss no more than 4 classes, for whatever reason. Missing classes will affect your grade. Please do not schedule doctor's appointments or other events during class time.

Communicating with Your Instructor

Email me within our Blackboard (BB) class unless you are having problems accessing BB. I am listed as Terry White (instructor). Use my COM email in the event you cannot access Blackboard. In your email, send me a phone number where I can call and leave a message if necessary. I will call you as soon as I can.

ALL electronic communication with me outside of Blackboard must be through your COM email. Due to FERPA restrictions, faculty cannot share any information about performance in the class through other electronic means.

If you have computer problems and CANNOT access Blackboard or the Internet, leave a voice mail on my office phone above, and I will call you as soon as I can.

I try to answer emails within 24 hours.

Academic Dishonesty

Any incident of academic dishonesty will be dealt with in accordance with college policy and the Student Handbook. Academic dishonesty such as cheating on exams is an extremely serious offense and will result in a grade of zero on that exam and the student will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct for the appropriate discipline action.

HUMANITIES DEPARTMENT POLICY STATEMENT: PLAGIARISM

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. To plagiarize is to steal the words or ideas of another and pass them off as one's own. Two forms of plagiarism are common. In the first form, the writer incorporates published or otherwise recorded material without properly acknowledging its sources. In the second form, the writer submits work actually done by someone else. (The student who allows his/her work to be used by others is also guilty.)

Any student who plagiarizes will receive a grade of "0" on his/her plagiarized work and may, as a result, receive a failing grade in the course. Ignorance will not be an acceptable defense: all students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the rules of documentation.

Violation of the Plagiarism Policy may result in a referral to the College of the Mainland Judicial Coordinator or further disciplinary actions as stated in the current Student Handbook.

"Source" may refer to published works (including material available from electronic/computer networks or databases), electronically broadcast programs, films, recordings, interviews, speeches, or lectures.

1. You must document when you quote directly from another source.
2. You must document when you paraphrase words from another source.
3. You must document when you summarize ideas from another source.
4. You must document when you use facts (statistics in a chart or graph, for example) or visual material from another source.

Directions for filing an appeal can be found in the student handbook. <https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf>. An appeal will not be considered because of general dissatisfaction with a grade, penalty, or outcome of a course. Disagreement with the instructor's professional judgment of the quality of the student's work and performance is also not an admissible basis for a grade appeal. https://build.com.edu/uploads/sitecontent/files/student-services/Student_Handbook_2019-2020v5.pdf

Technology Outage Policy

Campus-Wide

Students are responsible for completing all course work by the due dates stated in the assignment schedule. Occasionally the College may experience emergency campus-wide technology outages. Should this occur during a Quiz or submission of an Assignment, you will need to notify the instructor. You will need the Quiz to be reset or for the instructor to extend assignment due date. The assignment due date will be extended or the quiz will be reset after the campus-wide outage is confirmed by Informational Technology.

An Announcement will be sent to all students relaying the information about the new due date for the assignment or quiz. In case of a personal technology issue or if you have questions about an assignment or need clarification of requirements, you are expected to contact the instructor using Course Email. The College has a number of computer labs so access to requisite technology needed to complete assignments should not be an issue.

Personal Technology Outage

You should have a back-up plan in case you experience problems with your computer or internet service. If you experience technology problems, it is your responsibility to turn your work in on time. If you experience Internet problems, fill out a support ticket before you contact your instructor. The link can be found under the Resources Menu, "COM, Course and Technical Links" on the left side bar of the course; click on the link and submit a support ticket.
